

REFRESH

Refreshes the persistent state of an object from the database, overriding any local changes that have not yet been persisted.

FLUSH

Flushes all changes to objects that have been queued up to now to the database.

This effectively synchronizes the in-memory state of managed objects with the database.